Emory Campus Life cultivates a welcoming and dynamic community and the Office of Health Promotion (OHP) embraces a positive, holistic, social justice-oriented definition of health to help you be the best human being you can be! Health and learning are inextricably linked and many studies support the connection between higher levels of education and greater life expectancy. Our experiences in higher education, and the benefits we reap from them, are a privilege we can use to create positive transformation throughout the world.

OHP builds a healthier community by:

- Supporting students with tools they can use to increase their well-being, resiliency and happiness, academic success and long-term health benefits
- Ending sexual and relationship violence, advocating for survivors, and creating a survivor supportive campus
- Reducing the negative impact of alcohol and other substance abuse on individual learners and our community
- Preparing students to promote health in the communities they inhabit at Emory and throughout their lives
OHP works at multiple levels to achieve our vision that every Emory student will flourish on a healthy campus.

Campus Community
- RespectCon
- Condom Availability Program
- Denim Day
- Medical Amnesty Protocol
- Tobacco Free Emory
- Flourish Emory
- Alcohol and Drug Abuse Policy
- Sexual Violence Prevention Visioning Task Force
- Take Back the Night
- If you Drink, Drink Like Dooley Campaign
- Ask, Don’t Assume Campaign
- AlcoholEdu and Haven
- Student Health 101 e-magazine
- Sex Week
- Flourish Emory
- Healthy Emory

Relationship
- Recovery House
- Flourish! Harris
- Student Groups (see next page)
- Greek Initiative

Individual
- Happiness Boot Camp
- Internships & Fellowships
- StressBusters
- Medical Amnesty Counseling
- Sexual Assault Advocacy
- Substance Abuse Risk Reduction Counseling
- Connection to treatment services
- HIV Testing with DeKalb County Board of Health
- SleepWell

Embrace your passion. Unleash your potential. Learn more about Campus Life at Emory.
Our Vision
Every Emory student will flourish in a healthy campus.

Our Mission
The Office of Health Promotion facilitates student flourishing and builds capacity for a healthy Emory.

We engage with undergraduate, graduate and professional students as partners in the important work of creating a healthy campus culture at Emory.

Sexual Assault Peer Advocates - SAPA
SAPA provides trainings to undergraduate and graduate students about what to say, what not to say, and how to help sexual assault survivors. The trainings are free and open to all current Emory students.

Flourish Emory strives to evolve Emory’s campus culture to perpetually create conditions that make every student “more optimistic, happy and satisfied.” FE believes that student success goes beyond academic achievement or attainment of career goals and enters the realm of living a purposeful, meaningful and eudemonic life. Flourish Emory currently advises several student organizations, facilitates The Happiness Bootcamp, and co-sponsors “The Good Life” lecture series.

The Health Promotion Advisory Committee - HPAC
The members of HPAC have input on policy and programs. We meet with leaders from the Office of Health Promotion once or twice a semester.

Grads Against Violence
An emerging coalition of graduate and professional students from across all 8 of Emory’s schools. Whether you came to Emory right out of a bachelor’s program, or you are returning to school after many years of professional life (or anything in between), you can be a part of Emory’s response and prevention initiatives to end violence in our community.

Alliance for Sexual Assault Prevention - ASAP
(ASAP) is a student-led organization that is dedicated to increasing awareness about sexual assault on Emory’s campus and to work toward ending sexual violence at Emory.

Sexual Health Advocacy Group - SHAG
A group of Emory students coming together to promote positive sexuality through education, discussion, and resource materials.

The Greek Initiative is a collaboration between students, the Respect Program, and the Office of Sorority and Fraternity Life, to create and deliver provocative programs for the Greek community which promote sexual respect and violence prevention.

RespectCon is an annual conference for Sexual Assault Prevention Professionals and students. The 2014 conference theme was “Sexual Violence Prevention through a Social Justice Lens.”

See our website for information about internships, training, and more: studenthealth.emory.edu/hp studenthealth.emory.edu  facebook.com/bewellexcel  Twitter: @BeWellExcel  Phone: 404-727-1736 www.youtube.com/BeWellExcel  readsh101.com/emory.html  Location: 1525 Clifton Rd. 1st floor

Heather Zesiger, MPH, MCHES, Director of Health Promotion

- Creating a healthy campus culture
- Partnerships with classes and faculty
- Eliminating health disparities
- Careers in public health/higher education
- SleepWell

404-727-1736  @HeatherBeWell heather.zesiger@emory.edu

Willie Bannister, LPC, Associate Director Substance Abuse Risk Reduction

- Substance abuse counseling
- Lower risk choices
- Smoking cessation
- Programs and services for students in recovery
- Confidential

404-727-0395  @BeWillExcel wbannis@emory.edu

Troizel Carr, BA, RHD Fellow

- Video and documentary film
- Social media
- Holistic health
- Flourishing

404-727-9003
tdcarr@emory.edu

Raphael Coleman, Assistant Director Prevention Strategies

- Public health strategies for a healthy campus
- Prevention of high risk drinking & drug use
- Data driven planning
- Community-level prevention initiatives

404-727-7930
raphael.coleman@emory.edu

Marc Cordon, MPH, Associate Director

- Student flourishing and happiness
- ACHA’s National College Health Assessment
- Coordinate Flourish Emory
- Community building
- Promote wellness
- Student Engagement

404-712-1447  @MarcWellExcel
mcordon@emory.edu

Drew Rizzo, MS, Assistant Director for the Respect Program - Prevention

- Advise ASAP and GAV
- Coordinate the Greek Initiative
- Engage men in violence prevention
- Improve campus sexual respect
- Foster healthy communication

404-727-6842  @DrewWellExcel
drew.rizzo@emory.edu

Laura Smith, Administrative Assistant

- Safer sex supplies
- Coordinate HPAC
- Student Health 101 e-magazine
- Webmaster
- Listserv coordinator
- Bulletin board kits, Stall Street Journals

404-727-1697
laura.j.smith@emory.edu

Wanda Swan, MA, Associate Director for the Respect Program - Advocacy

- Confidential Crisis Counseling for sexual and relationship violence
- Assist with Interim Accommodations
- Provide Trauma-Informed Training for survivor support
- Advise SAPA

404-727-7388
wanda.swan@emory.edu

Troizel Carr, BA, RHD Fellow

- Video and documentary film
- Social media
- Holistic health
- Flourishing

404-727-9003
tdcarr@emory.edu

Raphael Coleman, Assistant Director Prevention Strategies

- Public health strategies for a healthy campus
- Prevention of high risk drinking & drug use
- Data driven planning
- Community-level prevention initiatives

404-727-7930
raphael.coleman@emory.edu

Marc Cordon, MPH, Associate Director

- Student flourishing and happiness
- ACHA’s National College Health Assessment
- Coordinate Flourish Emory
- Community building
- Promote wellness
- Student Engagement

404-712-1447  @MarcWellExcel
mcordon@emory.edu

Drew Rizzo, MS, Assistant Director for the Respect Program - Prevention

- Advise ASAP and GAV
- Coordinate the Greek Initiative
- Engage men in violence prevention
- Improve campus sexual respect
- Foster healthy communication

404-727-6842  @DrewWellExcel
drew.rizzo@emory.edu

Laura Smith, Administrative Assistant

- Safer sex supplies
- Coordinate HPAC
- Student Health 101 e-magazine
- Webmaster
- Listserv coordinator
- Bulletin board kits, Stall Street Journals

404-727-1697
laura.j.smith@emory.edu

Wanda Swan, MA, Associate Director for the Respect Program - Advocacy

- Confidential Crisis Counseling for sexual and relationship violence
- Assist with Interim Accommodations
- Provide Trauma-Informed Training for survivor support
- Advise SAPA

404-727-7388
wanda.swan@emory.edu